RECENT MEETINGS & TRIPS: A trip to Curramulka recently discovered a new extension off the wombat runs. There are a number of crevasses in the area which extends the cave far beyond the previously known limits in a new direction. From the large number of complete skeletons lying around it has been called the "Skeleton Extension". A later trip surveyed 1100 feet of passage and discovered further passages. There are plenty of possibilities for digging and should provide many happy hours of pottering around.

During the January long weekend a party visited Arcoota, despite huge floods the previous night. Several reports near Hawker were followed up but proved to be mines or rock shelters. A longitudinal section and cross sections through the Arcoota Cave were made to supplement the earlier map. The weekend ended with a bonfire at Prospect.

John Mitchell again gave a very illuminating talk on Herpy-something-something-or-other-ology, snakes to you!

Fred Sanders gave his long awaited and eagerly anticipated talk on the undisclosed subject, which turned out to be an illustrated talk on world touring.

PERSONAL: We have to report that David Alistair Hill and Leanne Joys Jackson have made their presence heard recently.

HAVE YOU PAID UP YET?

If not, you are unfinancial and cannot vote, form part of a quorum or receive circulars.
