Message says '... we came in a motor car.'
A further example, pm. 2 Aug.1906, was sent by J.C. Wiburd to Mrs. S. Selby of Devon, England. The message reads : Dear Ada, On this P.C. you will see the Accomodation House, Post Office, Photo Kiosk and our house up on the hill but I will send you a better one when I get it. Bitterly cold and snow on all the hill tops. Dad, Ma and Bell are home from their holidays. Hope you are all well. Love to self Sid and the children. J.W.
It is perhaps also worth noting that we also have a letter pm. 7 Dec.1898 from Syd (who says he will leave the news to Ada) to Wiburd about arrangements for sending him the local paper, so this correspondence is evidently part of a long-standing friendship.
- JK01A.4 Grand Arch, West Side, Jenolan H (s.n.a.JK00.7) [pm.15 Oct.1906]
JK01A.5 The Grand Column, River Cave. Jenolan V [pm.4 Jul.1907]

- JK01B.2 Nellie's Grotto, Jenolan H (s.n.a. JK0.2) [pm.27 Nov.1908]
 Sender says 'We were here and have seen the underground river & cave & they throw money in it & it cleaned out once a year and given to charities nearest Jenolan. They are fine caves but nothing as pretty as Naracoorte. These are more extensive and go for miles & in places 2JK80 feet high...'
The underground river today is often cloudy and carries a considerable silt load so that it would not serve as a 'wishing well'.
 On another card, ms. 17 Sept.1908, sender says 'We are having a good time stayed at Katoomba Wed. night. Thurs. morning caught paper train to Medlow. caught 9 o'clock train (sic) to Jenolan. Glorious drive, marvellous sights, very cold clear weather. 5.00 Friday arrived at Medlow again after delightful drive. Will stay here tonight back to Katoomba tomorrow arrive Sydney early Monday.'

- JK01B.4 Grand Arch, West Side. Jenolan H (s.n.a. JK0.7)

- JK01B.6 The Minaret, River Cave, Jenolan V (s.n.a. JK00.14) [pm.5 Oct.1909]
 Another copy [pm.16 Jan.1909] has been sent from Cooke's Kia-Ora guesthouse, and has the beginning of a letter, which says, '... there are about 20 caves and you can visit only one at a time. You have to have a guide and they only take you for a day...' (continued on JK031A.11 - see below).
- JK01B.6 Gem of the West. R.I.Jenolan V [pm.28 Feb.1908]

- JK01C.7 Gem of the West V (s.n.a. JK0.8 - not retouched) [pm.11 Dec.1905]
We have one example [pm.11 Jan.1907] that appears to have been mailed home (to Schenectady, N.Y.) by an American Visitor. The message on the back says, '. . . We are at the caves for some days seeing the sights. Simply wonderful beyond description & much vaster than I thought possible. Going thro' a very steep one tomorrow & in a boat in the bowels of the earth part of the way.' The front also bears a note saying 'This is only one little gem of the Left Imperial Cave, impossible for a print to convey any idea of the glistening beauty. Nothing like this in America !!'

 (Attributed to Trickett in his Guide)
 One card [pm.16 Jan.1909] contains the balance of the letter from JK01B.6 (see above), which continues, '. . . and charge 5/- each visit. . the Grand Arch is very high and the rocks go up straight for about 300 feet. . . . We can freewheel for 5 miles from where we are stopping to the caves but you have to push 5 miles back, we are going to Lithgow after we leave here to see the iron works.' [probably from the two young men who pedalled penny-farthings around Australia!]
 JK31A.11 Angel's Wing, Orient Cave V
 JK31A.12 The Nymph's Baths, River Cave V [pm.21 Apr.1906]

The above series was sold in a printed package, the labelling of which included the words 'Copyright Strictly Vested in Kerry & Co., 310 George St., Sydney.'

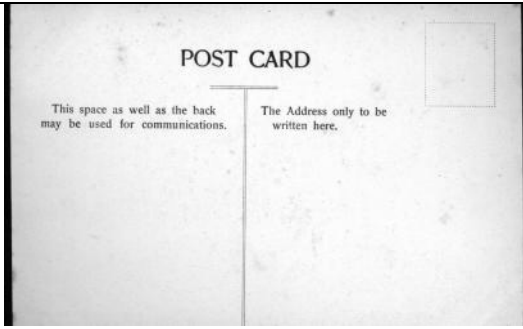

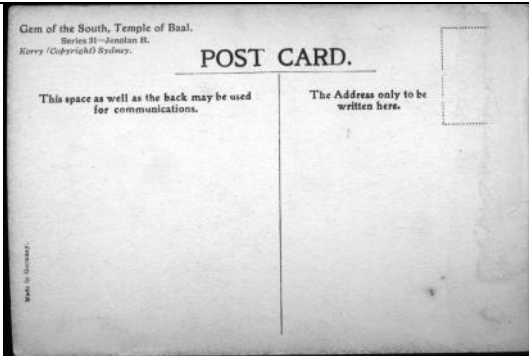

- JK31B.1 [Tower Chamber, River Cave] H [pm.23 Dec.1908]

 JK31B.3 [Empress Grotto, Orient Cave] V [pm 30 Apr. 1908]
 JK31B.4 [Bath of Venus, Skeleton Cave] V
 One card has written on back '...This is a portion of the underground river, the water of which is icy cold. In the river are most peculiar looking fish without any eyes.' This reference is of interest: there is no authenticated record of blind fish at Jenolan, but there are various early rumours - these probably represent an expectation by the guides rather than reality.
 JK31B.5 [Oberon Grotto, Skeleton Cave] V [pm.8 June 1908]
 JK31B.6 [Suspended Crystals, Orient Cave] V
 JK31B.7 [Gem of the South, Temple of Baal] V [pm.21 Jul.1909]

Sender says 'This is a view of one of the beautiful spots in the caves. We arrived by coach yesterday. . . . now we are at the caves which is the best of our trip. The postcard is a beautiful site. The white hanging is just as clear and as white as straw, and has lovely pink tints running through it and the columns are just like glittering diamonds.'
JK31D.9 The Lyre Birds, Nest Orient Cave (sic) V [pm.22 Feb.1907]

- Message on back says 'This is a specimen of Jenolan Caves supposed to be finest in the world. I visited 4 of them took 2 hours each ...'

(s.n.a. 5.10, attributable to Trickett)
- JK31D.11 Angel's Wing, Orient Cave V [pm.2 Mar.1909]
This and the following card are both from the same sender but to two different addressees. This one notes 'we have seen three caves . . . River Cave. The last was the most interesting as we were ferried across the River Styx, the guide taking the place of Charon.'
- JK31D.12 The Nymph's Baths, River Cave V [pm.2 Mar.1909]
Sender says ' . . . We had a two days' walk (36 miles) to get here - a party of 7, 6 girls & a chaperone - had great fun on the way. We are seeing as many caves as we can get in, in the time & expect to leave here Thursday for a walkback on a different road.' This is interesting evidence of early walking tours by women; see also notes below on the Six-foot Track.
- JK31E.3 Empress Grotto, Orient Cave V
- JK31E.7 Gem of the South, Temple of Baal V

It will be seen from the above that all 12 designs have been recorded in each of the first four sub-series, but to date, only two in the fifth.

JK77B Special card –The Shambles, Stockton-on-Tees

A higher cavern in the Chifley Cave are commonly known as the Shambles. One can only assume that it was named after the contemporary British name for a meat market, used throughout much of the United Kingdom. This area of the cave is no longer open for general tours, but as it still has the original electrical fittings, it is sometimes used for historic tours.

JK77B Special card – an example of the LEA reward cards

We also have an example in our series 8 where a card was used as an award in schooling. Here is a card depicting a major bridge and marina at Geneva with a specially printed back for use as a reward by the schools of the London County Council.

Sender says, *'We have been to the Blue Mountains seeing the wonderful caves there a sight I have been longing to see it is one I shall never forget. The view on this card we saw on our first inspection. I thought them grand, but they were nothing to what we saw after in another cave. Both Series JK84A & JK84D occur as packaged sets (Type 2). The cards generally have the printer's imprint erased, and as we will note in other places, this is probably the result of patriotic fervour during World War I. Kerry (1908) lists this series among his 'Penny Hand Coloured Cards', but we have only seen B. & W. examples.

 We also have one example of this card which is tastefully hand-coloured.

Both Series JK85A & JK85D occur as packaged sets (Type 2). The cards often have the printer's imprint erased, and as noted in other places, this is probably the result of patriotic fervour during World War I.

However, all these series were included in Kerry's 1908 listing, and so were apparently available then.
