

N.S.W.: Borenore

This is an area near Orange, with a large number of caves, but many of these are small, and often considered of little interest. However, the Jenolan Caves Reserve Trust now administers it and visiting is gradually increasing. We have one personal card, identified from the brief written description on the back. It shows four people, one of whom is holding a baby, sitting in the entrance of a cave.

