

KOSCIUSZKO N.P.

Kerry was almost certainly the first to be aware of snow caves in Australia, and left at least several postcards depicting them.

1. KERRY UN-NUMBERED CARDS [n.l. 1904]

Ph Charles Kerry
Pu Kerry & Co,
Pr In Germany by collotype
F Picture has wide lower margin with title and publisher imprint; undivided back as Jenolan 3 but word 'Post-card.' may be 48 mm. (A) or 45 mm. (B)

1A.1 Exploring a snow cave, Kosciusko H [pm.4 Oct. 1904]

1B.1 Exploring a snow cave, Kosciusko H [pm.1907]

(Depicts a cave below cornice - probably that which occurs near the summit in winter)

2. KERRY SERIES 17 - Australian Alps

Ph Charles Kerry
Pu Kerry & Co.
Pr In Germany by Collotype
F Picture with wide R.H. margin with title and imprint.

2.1 A Snow Cave H (view of what appears to be a small cave beneath a rock shelf with long icicles hanging down) [pm.23 Jan.1906]

3. KERRY SERIES 59 - The Engadine of Australia.

Ph Charles Kerry
Pu Kerry & Co.
Pr In Germany by collotype
F Photo with superimposed title in B. & W. (A) or colour (B)

(The name Engadine was used by Kerry in his efforts to publicise the snow country of New South Wales and derives from its resemblance, in his eyes, to the famed Engadine Valley of Switzerland.)

3A. 3A.1 A snow cave in summer H (depicts a group of men sheltering in a cave formed by melting of snow on the underside of a drift)

3B. 3B.1 A Snow Cave, Summer H (s.n.a.3A.1)

4. PADDY PALLIN CARDS

Pu Paddy Pallin Adventure Centre
Ph Mike Edmundson
F Spectacular full-colour views from within a snow cave. Both are over-sized and will be filed in the photographic collections.

4.1 Hidden Snow Cave H 16.5 x 12 cm.

4.2 Snow Cave H 22.2 x 10.5 cm.