

N.S.W. MISCELLANEA

Historic: Mitchell Library postcard of William Lawson, said to be Australia's first speleologist, because of his exploration of Limekilns cave, near Bathurst.

Photographic:

Kerry card of the Wingecarribe River, but noteworthy because the back has a printed announcement of the latest numbered series (various between 30 & 50) to be published

Harrington's George St Warehouse.

Unidentified:

View over the shoulder of a caver looking out from an entrance, or perhaps more likely, a climber framed by a rock overhang, looking out over open land.

Bats:

Actually flying foxes, not cave dwellers, but interesting.
